

the Oxford Scientist

SHOULD WE FOCUS ON FIXING OUR PLANET OR MOVE TO A NEW ONE?

If you have an answer to this question, we want to hear it! Send us your thoughts as a 700-word essay and you're in with a chance of having your piece published in The Oxford Scientist and winning a prize.

What are the problems we most need to fix? What are the best solutions currently available?

Do you have a new solution? Should we use the resources we have on Earth or look for better ones elsewhere? Do we need to answer this questions within a certain time frame? How can we work together to fix the planet and its problems?

This competition is open to all UK students in years 10-13. The deadline for essay submissions is Friday 24th January. For more information on this competition, please go to our website oxsci.org or email competition@oxsci.org

If your school, sixth form or college would like to subscribe to The Oxford Scientist, please contact editor@oxsci.org