

I have taken part in Competition 3.2: Reading the Runes

I started by using the alphabet that coded for the runes to decipher the message. I got this as my result:

Fe reticent uolcano keeps His never slumbering blan confided in Him brojects binc to no brecarious man.

I was puzzled so assumed the first word was The and entered the first three words into a google search. I then discovered the poem 'The reticent volcano keeps' by Emily Dickenson. This matched up to what I had written, bar the incorrect letters and so my final answer is:

The reticent volcano keeps
His never slumbering plan
Confided are his projects pink
To no precarious man